What is a Medical Emergency? Any medical problem that poses immediate risk to a person’s life or long-term health that could cause death or permanent injury if not treated quickly.

Some Examples Include:
- Chest pain with sweating, nausea, vomiting, shortness of breath, radiating pain that moves to the arm or neck, dizziness, or irregular heartbeat
- Choking, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Severe bleeding or broken bones

In Case of a Medical Emergency Call 911
Or contact the Community Health Aide on call VHF Channel 79

Emergency Contacts

- Emergency Services ................................................................. 911
  Inform the 911 operator that you are calling from the village
- On-Call Community Health Aide .................................................... VHF Channel 79
- AK State Troopers/VPSO ............................................................. 1-907-486-4121
- LifeMed ....................................................................................... 1-800-478-5433
- Guardian .................................................................................... 1-888-997-3822
- U.S. Coast Guard Medevac .......................................................... 1-800-478-5555
  Be sure to inform the USCG that all available commercial medevac carriers have denied transport due to runway specifications
- Providence Hospital ................................................................. 1-907-486-3281
  KANA’s physician on call can be reached through the Community Health Aide by message service
- Poison Control ........................................................................ 1-800-222-1222
- Child Services (OCS) ............................................................... 1-907-486-6174
What is a Medical Emergency? Any medical problem that poses immediate risk to a person’s life or long-term health that could cause death or permanent injury if not treated quickly.

Some Examples Include:
- Chest pain with sweating, nausea, vomiting, shortness of breath, radiating pain that moves to the arm or neck, dizziness, or irregular heartbeat
- Choking, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Severe bleeding or broken bones

In Case of a Medical Emergency Call 911
Or contact the Community Health Aide on call at 907-512-6735

Emergency Contacts

Emergency Services ................................................................................................................... 911
Inform the 911 operator that you are calling from the village

On-Call Community Health Aide .......................................................................................... 1-907-512-6735

AK State Troopers/VPSO ........................................................................................................ 1-907-486-4121

U.S. Coast Guard Medevac .................................................................................................... 1-800-478-5555
Be sure to inform the USCG that all available commercial medevac carriers have denied transport due to runway specifications

Providence Hospital ................................................................................................................ 1-907-486-3281
KANA’s physician on call can be reached through the Community Health Aide by message service

Poison Control ....................................................................................................................... 1-800-222-1222

Child Services (OCS) ........................................................................................................... 1-907-486-6174
Old Harbor Emergency Services
For after-hours life threatening medical emergencies

What is a Medical Emergency? Any medical problem that poses immediate risk to a person’s life or long-term health that could cause death or permanent injury if not treated quickly.

Some Examples Include:
- Chest pain with sweating, nausea, vomiting, shortness of breath, radiating pain that moves to the arm or neck, dizziness, or irregular heartbeat
- Choking, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Severe bleeding or broken bones

In Case of a Medical Emergency Call 911
Or contact the Community Health Aide on call at 1-907-202-6009
(you must first dial the area code)

Emergency Contacts

Emergency Services ..................................................................................................................................................911
Inform the 911 operator that you are calling from the village

On-Call Community Health Aide ......................................................................................................................1-907-202-6009
You must first dial the area code

AK State Troopers/VPSO ......................................................................................................................................1-907-486-4121

U.S. Coast Guard Medevac .................................................................................................................................1-800-478-5555
Be sure to inform the USCG that all available commercial medevac carriers have denied transport due to runway specifications

Providence Hospital .................................................................................................................................................1-907-486-3281
KANA’s physician on call can be reached through the Community Health Aide by message service

Poison Control .......................................................................................................................................................1-800-222-1222

Child Services (OCS) .........................................................................................................................................1-907-486-6174
WHAT IS A MEDICAL EMERGENCY? Any medical problem that poses immediate risk to a person’s life or long-term health that could cause death or permanent injury if not treated quickly.

SOME EXAMPLES INCLUDE:

- Chest pain with sweating, nausea, vomiting, shortness of breath, radiating pain that moves to the arm or neck, dizziness, or irregular heartbeat
- Choking, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Severe bleeding or broken bones

IN CASE OF A MEDICAL EMERGENCY CALL 911
Or contact the Community Health Aide on call at 907-680-6734

EMERGENCY CONTACTS

Emergency Services...........................................................................................................911
Inform the 911 operator that you are calling from the village

On-Call Community Health Aide...................................................................................1-907-680-3030

AK State Troopers/VPSO...............................................................................................1-907-486-4121

U.S. Coast Guard Medevac..........................................................................................1-800-478-5555
Be sure to inform the USCG that all available commercial medevac carriers have denied transport due to runway specifications

Providence Hospital .........................................................................................................1-907-486-3281
KANA’s physician on call can be reached through the Community Health Aide by message service

Poison Control...............................................................................................................1-800-222-1222

Child Services (OCS).......................................................................................................1-907-486-6174
What is a Medical Emergency? Any medical problem that poses immediate risk to a person’s life or long-term health that could cause death or permanent injury if not treated quickly.

Some Examples Include:

- Chest pain with sweating, nausea, vomiting, shortness of breath, radiating pain that moves to the arm or neck, dizziness, or irregular heartbeat
- Choking, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Severe bleeding or broken bones

In Case of a Medical Emergency Call 911
Or contact the Community Health Aide on call at 907-454-8161

Emergency Contacts

Emergency Services ................................................................. 911
Inform the 911 operator that you are calling from the village

On-Call Community Health Aide ................................................... 1-907-454-8161

AK State Troopers/VPSO ......................................................... 1-907-486-4121

U.S. Coast Guard Medevac ......................................................... 1-800-478-5555
Be sure to inform the USCG that all available commercial medevac carriers have denied transport due to runway specifications

Providence Hospital ................................................................. 1-907-486-3281
KANA’s physician on call can be reached through the Community Health Aide by message service

Poison Control ........................................................................... 1-800-222-1222

Child Services (OCS) ................................................................. 1-907-486-6174